

NFA RULE 2-30 ADDITIONAL RISK PROCEDURE

1. You should be aware that the risk of loss in trading commodity futures or options contracts can be substantial. You may sustain a total loss of your initial margin funds and any additional funds that you deposit to establish or maintain a position. In addition, market conditions may be such that your account can incur a negative balance. In this event, you will be liable for any deficit in your account. You should also be aware that the exercise of a long option contract or the assignment of a short option contract will result in a futures position.
2. You should study futures trading and consider all of your financial obligations in determining whether the trading of commodity futures or options is appropriate for you. Since the risk factor is high, only genuine "risk funds" should be used.

The undersigned acknowledges that he or she has received, read, and fully understands the above NFA Rule 2-30 Additional Risk Procedure.
